

September, 2025

Dear Valued Distributors,

As we move forward into the final quarter of the year, we would like to announce that the MVP Contest will officially come to an end in September.

For many months, this contest has been a source of motivation, challenge, and growth. We have seen countless Distributors step up, push their limits, and set new standards of performance. Your hard work and consistency have inspired not only your teams but also the entire Enagic family worldwide.

Although the contest itself will conclude, the spirit of the MVP will continue. We will continue calculating the results for 2025, and the MVP of the year will be formally recognized and celebrated at one of our upcoming events. This recognition will not only honor individual achievement, but also highlight the dedication and passion that drives our mission forward.

We encourage every Distributors to keep striving, to keep building, and above all, to continue spreading True Health within your 8 points and beyond. True Health remains the foundation of everything we do, and every effort you make contributes to changing lives across the globe.

The end of this contest is not the end of your journey. Rather, it is an opportunity to carry the lessons, momentum, and energy into new challenges ahead. Together, let us finish the year with strength, unity, and the unwavering commitment to Enagic's vision.

Thank you for your leadership. Let's keep moving forward—sharing True Health, building success, and inspiring the world.

Warm regards,
Enagic Sales HQ
